TRADITION?!

"Wow, I can't believe it's finally our Senior Year. Everyone said that this year would be different, that this year would be traditional. But I knew they were wrong. Our class hasn't done traditional things for 3 years. Why change now?"

"Yeah, you're right. Just look at our Freshman and Sophomore years. During our Freshman year, we started the quality point system of class rank; we had a harvest party; we decorated the gloomy LHS halls for Christmas; and we went to Canobie Lake Park. Who has even ever heard of that place? We really continued our streak of breaking tradition during our Sophomore year. We had the Sophomore Banquet in October rather than in spring; we went to the ballet in December; we had a rollerskating party at the Hampshire Mall; and we went to Lake George. It almost seems as though we enjoy these strange end of the year trips. Why don't you talk about our Junior year?"

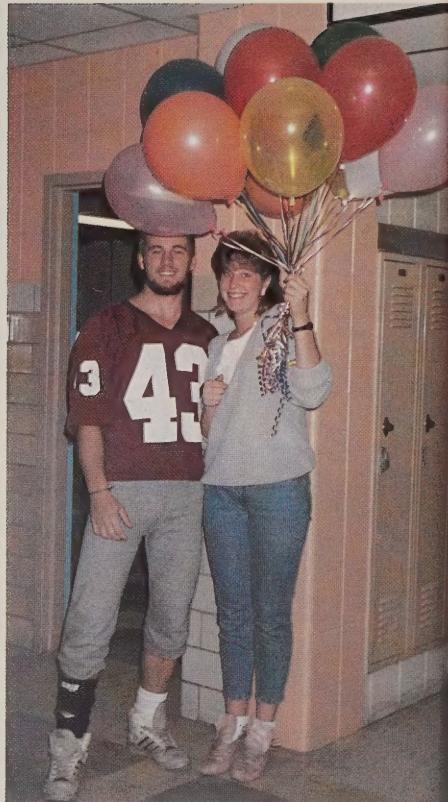

"What should I start with? Well, during our Junior year, a great deal of things seemed 'up in the air.' There was no Senior Assembly advisor until Mrs. Mancuso took on the job as chief advisor. But, for an assembly that started as nothing, it certainly turned out to be one of the best ever. We also moved the Prom to the Northampton Hilton Inn, and everyone had an awesome time. Well, our Senior Year has just started. How about if you talk about our Senior year?"

"Okay, that's easy because our Senior Year has shown quite a few breaks from tradition. We arrived at school on the first day to find the Senior Lounge closed. What a bummer! Then we had a threat of no Senior Show. But Mr. Burrage became our advisor, and things went great. We may have lost Senior Privileges, but we gained parking privileges. There are so many people that take advantage of that. Finally, this yearbook itself has gone through a great deal of breaks from tradition. It has a new publisher, a new photographer, and underclassmen working on the staff. Speaking of underclassmen . . ."

"I bet that we're setting a precedent for them."

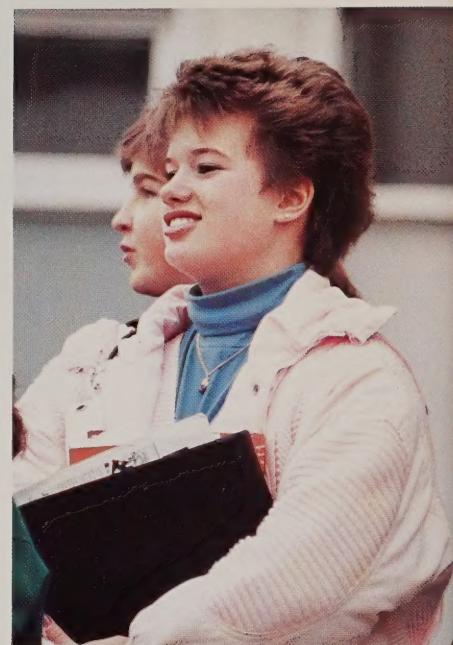

"Yeah, we're breaking tradition and starting new traditions. You could almost say that we're trend-setters. Now, just look at the Juniors, they've got a new advisor for Senior Assembly; and next year they'll have parking privileges. But, sorry guys, I don't think that you'll get Senior privileges either! So, what do you think? Are the Sophomores following in our footsteps too?"

"You bet! Just look at when they had their Sophomore Banquet. They didn't have it in the Spring; they had it at Christmas time. They may not have done a lot to follow in our footsteps yet, but give them time. They've just barely started their high school career."

"You're right, and I bet the Freshmen are in the same boat as them. Just give them a chance. The whole school is bound to follow our breaks from tradition."

A BREAK FROM SUMMER

“Can you believe it, we’re finally Seniors!”

These were the words that flowed from the mouths of all members of the Senior class upon returning to school from their summer vacation.

As well as welcoming back the Seniors, Good Old L.H.S. also opened its doors for the 1986-1987 year to the Classes of 1988 and 1989 and of course to its newest members, the Class of 1990.

All arrived to the clean halls of Ludlow High School to model their latest fall clothes and get a fresh start at a new year of school. They gathered by lockers to bring their friends up to date on the events of the summer vacation. The suntanned and happy faces filled the school while the voices rang loud from room to room. Everyone shared the anxiety and excitement of new courses and teachers. At least for one day of the school year everyone was on his best behavior.

LHS BREAKS TRADITION... BOOSTER WEEK

This year's Senior Class attempted to approach Booster Day in a different fashion. They decided to have a Booster Week to get students "psyched up" for the games. Booster Week consisted of Clash Day, Hat Day, and Stuffed Animal Day. On Friday of Booster Week, each class was given a hallway to decorate. Needless to say, the spirit in the hallways was apparent in the students' attitudes. Also, on Friday the annual Pep Rally was held in the gym. It was a huge success with even the Freshmen showing an unbelievable amount of pep. During the evening, there was a bonfire and a spectacular dance, "Twist and Shout." This everyone did, Freshmen and Seniors alike. Everyone, that is, except the football team players. Maybe someday the curfew will be lifted to allow the players to have a better time at the dance, but for now only players like Senior Lance Holman have learned the extreme penalty for having fun with the other students. Maybe Friday nights at home with the family are a small price to pay for those so devoted to the sport.

Sooo MANY DANCES

This year there were many dances which were highly attended by the entire school. These dances included the Big Brother, Big Sister Dance, the Booster Day Dance, the Halloween Dance, the Valentine's Day Dance, the Sock Hop, and the J.C.L. Toga Dance. Each dance was a success for both the group who sponsored it, since dances are fantastic fundraisers, and the people who attended it, since a dance is something to do on a Friday night with all of one's friends.

The first dance of the year was a welcoming dance for the Freshmen. It was put on by the Juniors, their big brothers and sisters. This dance gave the Freshman Class a chance to get acquainted with LHS social life. Also, of course, it also gave the Freshman girls a chance to get acquainted with the Junior guys.

The Halloween Dance was an excellent way to keep LHS students out of trouble. Also, since high school students are too old to go trick-or-treating anymore, the chance to get dressed in costume was a welcome treat. With prizes being awarded for best costumes, everyone was inspired to look their best, or scariest.

The Valentine's Day Dance gave lovers a chance to be together. But it also gave all students a chance to get together with their friends. Even students without a boyfriend or girlfriend shouldn't have to be alone for Valentine's Day.

The Class of 1988 sponsored a very successful Sock Hop. The Sock Hop gave students a chance to dance to the music of their parents' generation as well as dress like their parents did. It also gave students a chance to consult their parents as to what to wear. Now that's a change!

The final dance of the year was a toga party put on by the Junior Classical League. This was quite different to say the least. Since prizes were being awarded for best togas, many people came dressed accordingly. This was the last dance of a very active year for the entire school body.

KEEPING IN TRADITION ...

THE SENIOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Senior Class found itself at the Willow Glen Restaurant on December 19, 1986 for its Christmas Banquet. The members of the class came in their formal holiday attire to celebrate the season together.

Seniors danced the whole evening long to D.J. Tony Mole and his tunes. The highlight of the banquet centered around the guys of the class barking to the music of "Jingle Bells," an unforgettable laugh for the rest of the crowd.

And who could forget the parade of dancers walking "like Egyptians" to the new Bangles hit. It became the walk of the evening as everyone circled the hall in the Cleopatra style.

In the great spirit of the class an inspirational birthday wish was sung for the hesitant birthday boy, Dan LaFortune. The late evening was one filled with memories for all who attended. It may have been the last Christmas for the Seniors as a body, but many more will be shared in spirit. Merry Christmas!

CHRISTMAS GATHERINGS '88 and '89

Both the Sophomore and Junior classes held their banquets in the month of December this year, the Sophomores on December 12th and the Juniors on December 19th. The setting for both events was at Tony and Penny's Restaurant and in each instance the night included dinner and of course dancing late into the night.

These banquets created a sense of Christmas Spirit as well as a feeling of class unity which would last throughout the whole year for both classes.

GIVING . . .

At an assembly at the beginning of the school year, students learned that high school students and college students are the major blood donors. This fact obviously inspired Ludlow High's Pro Merito society as they decided to have two bloodmobiles once again. The first was held on December 12th, and the second was on March 6th.

Many Seniors, Juniors, and even a few Sophomores participated in the bloodmobiles. Also, a few people from throughout the community joined in the donating. Every pint of blood collected may help to save someone's life, and because of everyone's cooperation, both bloodmobiles were a success. It can be assured that the Red Cross will come back to Ludlow High School again next year.

WOMEN OF COURAGE, COMPASSION CONVICTION

During the week of March 9th, Ludlow High School celebrated its third annual National Women's History Week. A full schedule of events were planned for students' participation such as a school wide trivia concert and several guest speakers appearing in the library.

To culminate the week's events, the National Women's History Week Committee announced Ludlow's Woman of the Year as being Mrs. Adele Sambor. A reception was given in her honor at Tony & Penny's Restaurant on May 22nd.

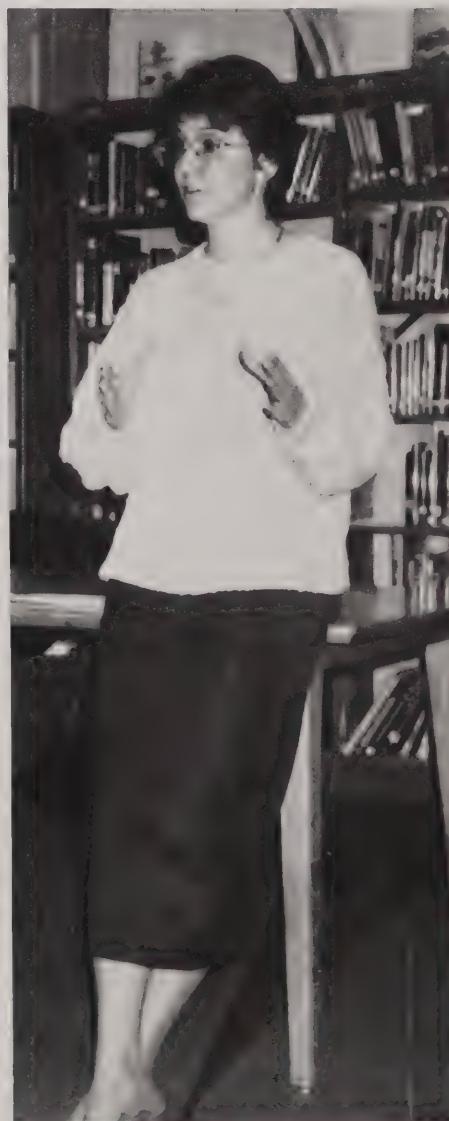

Faculty members of the National Women's History Week Committee included Mr. Bernard Burns, Mrs. Leonard Charest, Mr. Robert Colburn, Mrs. Nancy Kowalczyk, Mrs. Frances Libiszewski, Mrs. Anne Sands, and Ms. Susan Stachelek. Students involved in the program were Nicole Abair, Kristel Applebee, Linda Panek, and Christine Parzych.

SENIORS TAKE D.C. IN WINTER

It was a blustery Monday, February 16 as 45 seniors boarded a Peter Pan bus for what should have been an eight hour ride to our Nation's Capital. Leaving the "bubble" of a small town for sunshine and warmth of the South, Washington was the topic of conversation as we boarded the bus. After two trips back to the bus terminal, a major break-down on I-91, three bus changes, and eleven hours we finally arrived at our hotel.

Our days were filled with sightseeing tours of the Capital, Arlington Cemetery, and the monuments. The nights were spent swimming in the indoor pool, ordering room service and gabbing into the wee hours of the morning.

CLASS OF '87 PRESENTS . . . ... ONE TIME ONLY

Just One Time Only for the class of '87 to get it right as another senior show opened May 1 and 2 under the direction of Mr. Howard Burrage.

To kick off the long rehearsed production were hosts Lance Holman and Jill Yando to introduce some of the most memorable acts as "The Gong Show," "The Golden Girls," and "The Price is Right." The first half also featured the dancing talents of "Manhunt" and "Control," as well as "We Got the Power." The audience was impressed with duets by Brian Dygon with Kim Zych and Gary Casagranda with Manny Dutra, and enjoyed the enchantment of the musical twosome of Karin Krzyzek and Denise Bowen with "Arms of Love." The "LHS Trio" brought a special touch to the show with talented voices and instrumental selections. Again, to show the musical talent of the seniors, The "Dixieland Jam" livened the audience with songs of the South and of our history. To close the first half of the show, seventeen shriveled seniors from California "scooped" everyone out of his seat with "A Word From Our Sponsor" as they sang and swayed to convince the audience that they really had "Heard It Through the Grapevine."

The "Main Attraction" began Part Two of the '87 production with Christine Parzych and Michael Saletnik as hosts, introducing the band which was to perform a favorite, "Twist and Shout." If this wasn't enough excitement, "Cheerleaders Extraordinaire," senior football players and cheerleaders trading places, sure did bring the crowd to life. The "Peanuts Kids" and "The Sesame Street Gang" were comical releases for the audience to sit back and enjoy some childhood humor. The powerful voice of Danielle Patrie rang through the auditorium and the beautiful tap dancing of Wendy Swift captured everyone's attention. The odd comedy of a different sort of act marched out of the course of acts as our hosts bid farewell to us all.

Selections from Broadway topped the finale with memories from Cats, Trudy, the Bag Lady, A Chorus Line, Charlie Brown, The Tap Dance Kid, and The Man of La Mancha. The long awaited "One" from A Chorus Line went off without a flaw.

JUST YOU AND I

This year's Junior-Senior Prom at Chéz Josef in Agawam was held on May 15, which was not a beautiful, sunny day; however it did not rain. As one drove his car around Ludlow, he could view all of those going to the prom posing for pictures in their yards. Everyone looked incredibly nice. Some people were even unrecognizable.

As people arrived at the prom, many of them lined up to have Mr. Krasner take their pictures. Others just socialized until dinner was served. Dinner consisted of prime rib, chicken cordon bleu or jumbo stuffed shrimp. All were excellent.

Once dinner was finished, people were ready to dance, and that they did until 11:30 p.m., with one break. This break was for the announcement of Prom queen and king and Prom prince and princess. People anxiously awaited to hear that junior Lori Santos and her date Ken Saloio had been chosen as princess and prince. They also waited to hear that senior Laura Garneau and her escort Dan Gaumond had been chosen as queen and king of the prom. Because it was a night of such good food, excellent surroundings, great music by the band Breezin, and fun company, "Just You and I" is a night that won't soon be forgotten.

A WINNING PRODUCTION

The Ludlow High School Student Players' production of The Dining Room turned out to be their winning entry into the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival. Ludlow's cast included Maryanne Abeid, Christopher Burrage, Rebecca Clark, Heather Kenneally, Richard Marceau, Andrew Snyder, and Maura Snyder. These seven actors portrayed twenty-four characters in The Dining Room, A. R. Gurney, Jr.'s sometimes biting satire of upper middle-class Wasps. The play is a humorously poignant series of vignettes on the changing role of the classic formal dining room over the course of three generations. People and their relationships and even the time of day keep dissolving into one another without warning. Only the dining room furniture remains stable. In one scene, a father rushes off madly to avenge a slur made on his brother. In another, an oppressive Depression-era father lectures his children on grammar and manners. In yet another, a young mother contemplates on running out on her own child's party with someone else's husband.

All in all, Gurney's play is a cleverly conceived series of alternately hilarious and touching vignettes, all set in a charming suburban dining room featuring seven talented actors and actresses who continuously change roles and ages.

Maryanne Abeid discusses something with Rick Marceau.

FINE ARTS

The Fine Arts Department had a very busy and productive year. The band under the new direction of Ms. Cynthia Koch has been the most active it has ever been. Aside from playing at the football games, performing at their concerts, and marching in the Memorial Day Parade, the band held fundraisers and went on several field trips. The band's elected officers this year were president Tony Damato, vice president Karen Tokarz, and secretary-treasurer Debbie Kempesty. Michael Saletnik had been chosen by the previous band director, Mr. Royce Layman, as the drum major.

The Concert Choir and the Chorale under the Direction of Mr. Gregory Wrinn held concerts both in the winter and spring. The Concert Choir and Chorale once again displayed exceptional vocal ability throughout the program.

The art department under the direction of Mr. Bernard Burns and Mrs. Maureen Cotti, held two very successful art exhibits, one during the Open House and the other in the spring. At both of these exhibits all kinds of pieces were on display. The exhibits not only displayed the creativity of the many students but also the hard work that is put into all of the art classes.

All in all, it is clear to see that the Fine Arts Department had a very successful year.

A one-two punch . . . offense and defense

Although this year's Lady Lions were competing in the A Division for only their third season, they showed that they belonged by ending the year with a 18-4-1 record and their second Western Massachusetts Championship in two years.

These girls had a tremendous season led by Senior tri-captains Theresa Gaudreau, Sue Jerz, and Pam Socha. The offensive punch was led by All-American Pam Socha who set the school's record for individual scoring with forty-one points. Also contributing to this explosive offense threat was Marie Gaudreau and Michelle Gamache. The defensive wall was outstanding once again with the team work of Karen Alexander, Stephanie Mercier, Chrissy Andreis, and Sue Jerz. Sue shined in goal again to set a school record of twenty-six shutouts during her high school career.

This year the best defensive player was awarded to Stephanie Mercier, and the best offensive player went to Marie Gaudreau. Chrissy Andreis and Michelle Gamache received the coaches award. And the most valuable player was awarded to Pam Socha.

Head coach Phil Dalessio and assistant coach Jake Socha did another fine job coaching. This year revenge was sweet for Coach Delessio the girls beat Marlboro in the state semi-finals 3-2 in double overtime. Last year it was Marlboro who defeated the Lady Lions 1-0 in the state semi-finals.

The girls advanced to the state finals to face an undefeated Winchester team. In the state finals the Lions came out flying to score the first goal of the game and unfortunately the only one for them. After that the game started to move into Winchester's favor. As the game progressed, the girls from Winchester scored two goals to pull ahead and hold on for the win.

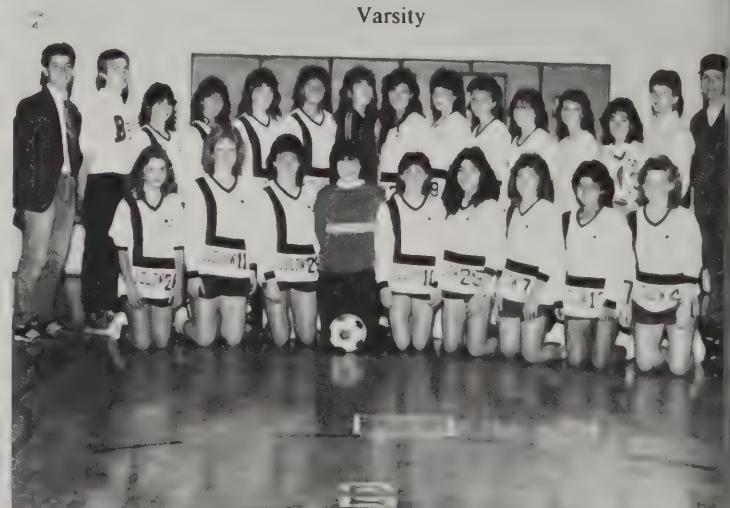

Congratulations to Coaches Dalessio and Socha and the Lady Lions for another exhilarating season! Best of luck in the years to come!

“GOOD ENOUGH TO EARN A SMITH DIVISION TITLE, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP, AND TOP SEED IN WESTERN MASS. TOURNAMENT.”

This year's edition of the Ludlow High School soccer team had a dream season only to end on a bad note in the Western Massachusetts Finals. The team ended the regular season with an undefeated 15-0-2 record, good enough to earn a Smith Division Title, League Championship, and top seed in the Western Massachusetts Tournament. The Lions defeated both Taconic and Minnechaug by the score of 5-1 to move into the finals, only to be upset by Agawam by the score of 2-0.

The team was led this year by a strong group of seniors who gave the team leadership and kept the team together. The Lions finished the season with eighty-eight goals to lead the league offensively. This strong offense was led by seniors Ricky Lima and Tony Damato, junior Mark Santos, and senior Avelino Afonso, who was the leading scorer in Western Massachusetts and received All New England honors. Seniors Carlos Costa and Joe Goncalves, who made the All-Western Massachusetts team handled the chores at midfield. The Lions also allowed a mere twelve goals to lead the league defensively. This defense was led by Juniors Ray Santos, Tony Pires, Tim Lussier, and senior Mark Papuga. Joe LaFlamme had a tremendous year in goal recording ten shutouts.

The town, students, and players should all be proud of this year's boys soccer team for what they accomplished this season. Best of luck to the boys in the years to come!

When one reflects on the 1986 varsity football team, the season must be thought of in two ways. The most obvious way to look at it is as a season with a disappointing record. Since there were only six seniors on the team, it also had to be considered as a building year..

The starting team consisted mainly of juniors that were led by the 1987 captains Marty Maziarz and Jim Monette. The level of enthusiasm on the team lessened the string of losses and actually brought the team closer together. On this team the seniors, only six in number, but experienced and dedicated four year players, provided the drive and enthusiasm. Led by tri-captains Jim Parker, Don Napolitan, and Lance Holman, and Mike Bouyea, Dru Loiselle, and Chris DeGregory these six seniors imparted all the knowledge they could to their inexperienced teammates.

The highlight of the season was the West Springfield game. Played under the lights on a rainy Saturday night Jim Parker led the team from a thirteen point deficit to a fourth quarter win. Parker rushed for 358 yards and scored four touchdowns. This performance helped Jim to be named to All Western Mass. First Team and also to the All Inter-county League Team.

With most of the team returning Coach Steve Marino and his assistants Dr. Koscher and Mr. Ericksberg are promising a good year for the '87 season.

Running . . . for the sport of it.

This year was the first year that Ludlow entered a girls' team as part of Cross Country competition. And while the number of students participating may have been larger than in recent years, Cross Country still has to be considered a developing sport at Ludlow High School and as such takes a back seat to both football and soccer during the fall season.

Cross Country knew well the meaning of team effort. With a lineup of mostly inexperienced runners, these seven girls and eleven boys paced their way through a difficult season.

SKIERS CONQUER SLOPES

This year's ski team was very close in age to its coach. Coaching the team was Joe Peluso who just graduated in 1985. Assisting Joe with the coaching job was Scott Tierney who graduated in 1986. But, these coaches turned out to be good coaches, and for a team that almost did not have a coach, their season worked out pretty well. Although this year was not a standout for the ski team, it did finish a respectable fourth in its division. With so many graduating Seniors, and even a graduating manager, Diane Pelletier, it is very hard to predict what next year's team will be like. But, we wish them only the best of luck!

This year's wrestling team, under the direction of first year coach, Don Kalish, earned themselves a record of five wins and ten losses, a season which was not as successful as the team and Coach Kalish may have wished. However, vast improvement was very noticeable as all wrestlers improved throughout the season. In fact, five wrestlers, Seniors: Mark Garrity and Lance Holman, Juniors: Larry Abeid and Kevin Cashman, and Sophomore Bill Bouyea placed in the Western Mass. Tournament and then proceeded to the State Finals.

Graduating only three seniors, next year's wrestling team looks very good with some very promising returners.

Malek's Icemen Face Off to Challenging Year

In spite of injuries, inexperience, and a very difficult schedule, the 1986-87 varsity hockey team fared quite well. This year's team had a 9-11 record and came very close to making the playoffs. Standouts for the Lions were goalie Jeff Steigmeyer, All-League center Todd Sepiol, Most Valuable Player, All-League Honorable Mention, and defenseman Dan Casagrande. Other key contributors were senior captains Scott Robbins, Tim Martins, and Kevin Woods, and juniors Alan Carr and Sergio Freitas.

The 1986-87 Ludlow High School hockey team should be commended for their hard work and dedication.

Round II Games Nip Hoopsters Chance at Tournament

The Girls Varsity Basketball team started out the season strongly. They won 5 of their first 8 games. Facing tough defeats in the second round, the team lost games by a very small margin. 3 of the last 4 games were lost by 2 points or less.

The captains this year: Sue Jerz, Pam Socha and Karen Brunelle led the team through a tough season.

The most valuable player and leading scorer was Kate Melbourne. She scored 184 points this season. The team had two most improved players: Cathy Chaput and Darcey Connaughton. Cathy started on JV, but her spectacular playing earned her a position on the varsity squad. Darcey, despite a wrist injury, was able to return to the team and earn the title of Co-

MVP.

The Junior Varsity squad posted a 12-6 season. The Most Valuable Player was Lianne Vautrain and The Most Improved Player was Lorie Martin. The captains, Tina Cabral and Karen Koss, helped build the team spirit which contributed to the fine season the Lady Lions had.

SPIRITED TEAM PRODUCES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The varsity hoopsters ended their regular season with a respectable 10-9 record, and placed second in their division. Throughout the season the team played well and many of the games lost were games that were too close to call until the very end. Led by co-captains Tung Bui and Joe

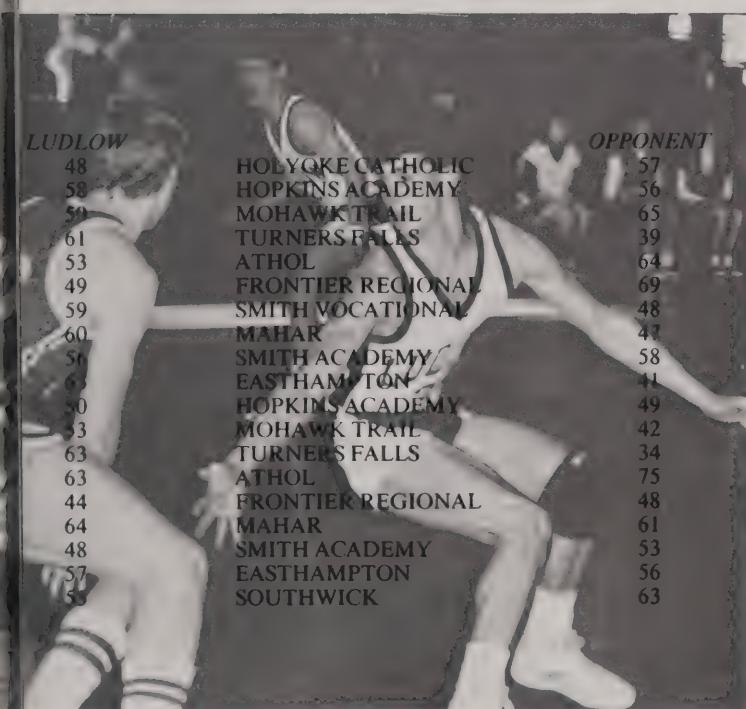

Crowley, the team consisted of only three seniors: Tung Bui, Don Napolitan, and Todd Cieplik, five juniors: Joe Crowley, Mark Parson, John Riordan, Larry Hitchcock, and Steve Vigneault and one sophomore, Steve Potorski.

Coach Bill Kolodziey can expect to have a more experienced, poised team next season since he is only losing three players and also gaining junior varsity players who sported a 16-3 record this season under the leadership of Coach Tom Cebula.

dedicated and enthusiastic

Contributing time, energy, and spirit at Ludlow athletic events were our familiar cheerleaders. Although the number of varsity cheerleaders decreased by the time basketball season began, there still remained a dedicated core of freshman and junior varsity girls. These girls devoted many willing hours to the squad, especially during the inclement weather that occurred at many of the football and soccer games.

This year's Booster Day Rally was very successful with each cheering squad putting in a large amount of time and practice. Traditionally, each class competes for the title of "Most Spirited." The Senior class won this year for cheering the loudest.

A first for our cheerleaders this year was their participation in a regional competition held in Worcester Massachusetts. Under the direction of Mrs. Carole Tierney and Margie Fortier, the girls placed third in this competition. They also received commendations for their enthusiasm and their "sparkle and shine."

The rain doesn't put a damper on the cheerleaders' spirits.

SERVING UP . . . SUCCESS

It was a great first year for intramural volleyball. It got a fresh start with Mr. Dalessio and Mr. Kolodziey at the helm. They set up a league of ten boys' teams and four girls' teams that wanted to play during the recess of the winter and spring sports seasons. As games progressed throughout the week, the girls' teams to beat were Cizano and Pam's Team. They later faced each other in the finals with Cizano coming out on top. In the boys' league, the Crushers were dominating, beating all teams including the Penetrators. In the finals, the Crushers defeated the Bombers in a competitive game. To end a spectacular season, an All-Star team was picked, one from each league, to face the faculty team which beat both All-Star teams. The boys' and girls' champions also played the faculty with only the Crushers taking the upper hand. All in all it was a great season and the future of volleyball at Ludlow High is glimmering with hopes of a varsity team someday.

RACQUETEERS SHOW POTENTIAL

Although the boys did not have an outstanding record this year, they showed great improvement and potential with every match they played. The team, coached by Lee Kenworthy, was a very young team with only a single senior, Tom Reid, on it.

If the boys continue to build their skills and gain experience the boys' tennis team at Ludlow High School will make a name for itself in the years to come.

This year was the first year in three years that Ludlow High School has had a girls' tennis team. There have been female tennis players in the past, however there was never enough interest to form an all girls' team and they, therefore, had to play on the boys' team.

Under the direction of first year coach John Carlin, the girls, who were all sophomores, earned themselves a record of one win and four losses. This was due to the fact that most of the players on the team only began playing competitive tennis this year.

Mr. Carlin states, "If the same team members return next year, I strongly believe that they will have a good chance at winning more of their matches."

TREMENDOUS TRACK TRIUMPH

Under first year coach Phil Dalessio, the Ludlow High School Varsity Track Team made the greatest improvement since 1983. Coach Dalessio had boosted the team's morale as well as its record. The returning strong players who helped the track team this year included Patti Mole, Kim Tremble, Paul Mole, Tung Bui, Joe Crowley, and Jim Parker. Also, the team recruited seven soccer players who were of great help in the running events.

At the beginning of the year, the girls wanted to have a separate team, but there was not enough interest amongst them. So, they were included on the boys' team and therefore ran and scored against them which made it harder for the team to compete.

Even though, with the coaching of Mr. Dalessio and his assistant Sergio Dias and of course the enthusiasm of all the tracksters, they have all contributed to turning around the track team and giving it the chance to prove itself in future years.

ON THE GREEN

Many of the members of this year's golf team had excellent seasons as individuals. Heading off the list of these individuals is Mark Parsons. He had an excellent season with an average score that was very low, and he topped off this excellent season by winning the Western Massachusetts individual title which was quite an accomplishment! Maybe next year he will win the State title. Other members of the team should not be overlooked, however. Junior Bob Carnevale had a good year as well as the other returning junior from last year's team, Bob Kulig. All of the newcomers to the team certainly showed great potential also. These included Gary Sedelow, Bob Tyburski, John Dryjowicz, Dan Deponte, Steve Cieplik, and the youngest member of the team, Mike Nedeau.

Although Ludlow did not do well in the team standings, as individuals they performed superbly. Also to be considered is the fact that the team did not contain even one senior. Thus, this was a growing year for the Lions, and it looks as though they have a very bright year ahead. Good luck guys!

SOFTBALL SLUGGERS SHOW SPIRIT

Although the Lady Lions' softball team had high hopes this year, their goal of a winning record fell short early in the season. According to fourth year coach Richard Malek, the team's weakness this year was in defensive play, "we were giving up fourteen runs a game." Offensively, the Lady

Lions did very well with the hitting talents of Susan Jerz, Kathy Melbourne, and Nicole Forgie. The team graduated four seniors this year: co-captains Susan Jerz, and Pam Socha, Maryanne Abeid, and Christine Parzych. Yet, with the talents of such returning players as juniors: Chrissy Andreis, Marie Gaudreau, and Kath Melbourne and sophomores: Kell Ayers, Tanya Bator, Deanna Bator, Nicole Forgie, and Karen Tokarz next year's team looks very promising.

The Boys' Varsity Baseball Team had a very good season this year with a record of ten wins and eight losses. Returning players this year included senior co-captains: Todd Cieplik and Carl Conui, and Don Napolitan, Juniors: Bill Ayers, Dan Casagrande, and Donn Dominique, and Sophomore Steve Potorski. Valuable newcomers to this year's team were Craig Weeks, Drue Loiselle, Larry Abeid, Keith Leal, Jim Monette, Mike Parisieu, Ron Pszeniczny, and Steve Vigneault.

At the beginning of the season, it was thought that the Lions' pitching "staff" was going to be a major weakness for the Lions this year. However, they overcame this problem with the pitching talents of Billy Ayers, Keith Leal, Jim Monette, and Craig Weeks.

Coach William Kolodzey is losing five key seniors this year in that of Carl, Todd, Don, Craig, and Drue; yet with next year's returning players and the very talented up and coming underclassmen Coach Kolodzey and his Lions show outstanding promise and potential for a very exciting season next year.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

"Can you believe it our senior year is finally over. I am so happy!!!"

"Me, too!! And didn't we end it off with a bang?"

"We certainly did, Senior Week was terrific! It actually started off with the Class Picnic we held behind the high school."

"That was our last informal gathering at L.H.S. It was a lot of fun for everyone. And when the picnic came to an end no one was really upset because now we were anxiously awaiting our Senior Banquet."

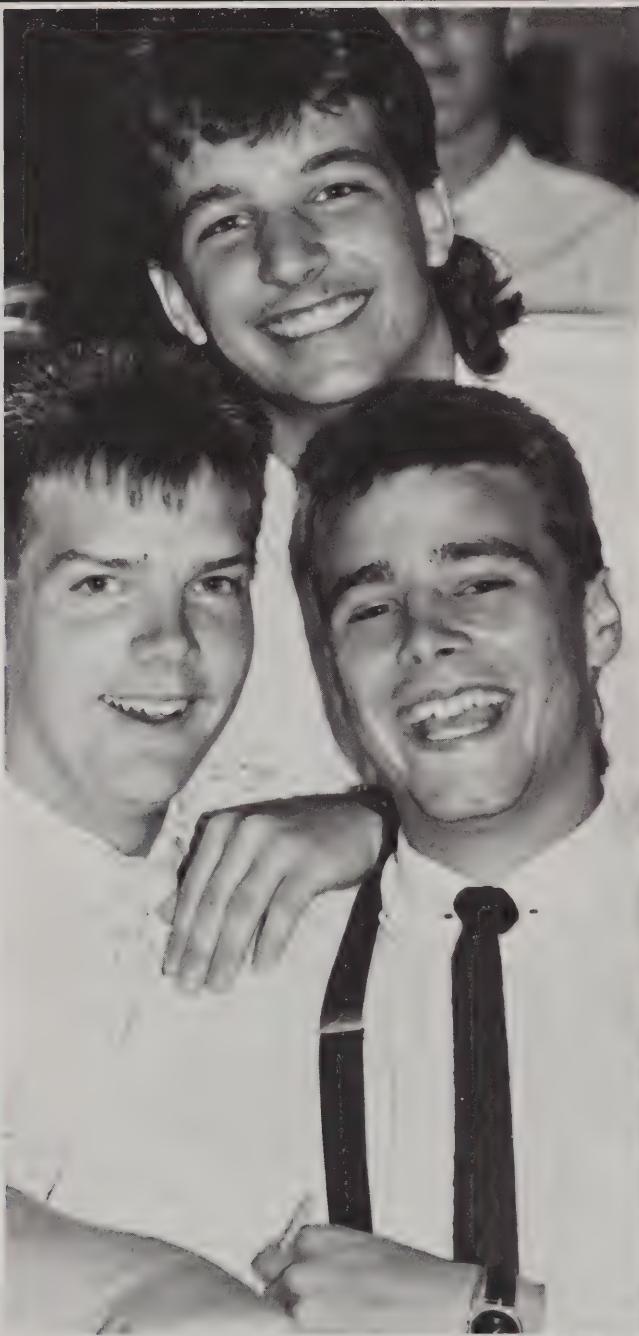

"We held that on June 1st at Tony and Penny's Restaurant. Many seniors attended sporting their dressiest clothes. Everyone looked great!"

"You can say that again. It was really a special evening where we could all get together to recall the good times we shared together in high school."

"The banquet sadly came to a close at midnight, but we were now getting ready for the next event on our Senior Week agenda."

The Final good-bye.

Wendy Papko and Heather Robbins talk about old times.

The boys anxiously await to hear their song . . . Pomp and Circumstance.

"And that would be Class Day. Awards and scholarships were handed out to members of our class. Also our Class History and Class Ballot were read, both of which really gave our class a laugh."

"It sure did as well as making us realize all of the great times we had in our four years of high school. Class Day ended at eleven and we were free to go home."

"But of course we had to be back at the high school at three for our mystery trip."

"And wouldn't you know it right as we were ready to leave on our trip . . . bus problems! They seem to follow our class everywhere."

"We finally did get on our way and no one knew where we were going. Did you have any idea?"

Scott MacNeil signing an autograph.

Mark Papuga being congratulated by Leslie Borsa.

Happy times for Lynn Evans, Kristel Applebee, and Karen Brunelle at banquet.

Ken Saloio "the imbo king."

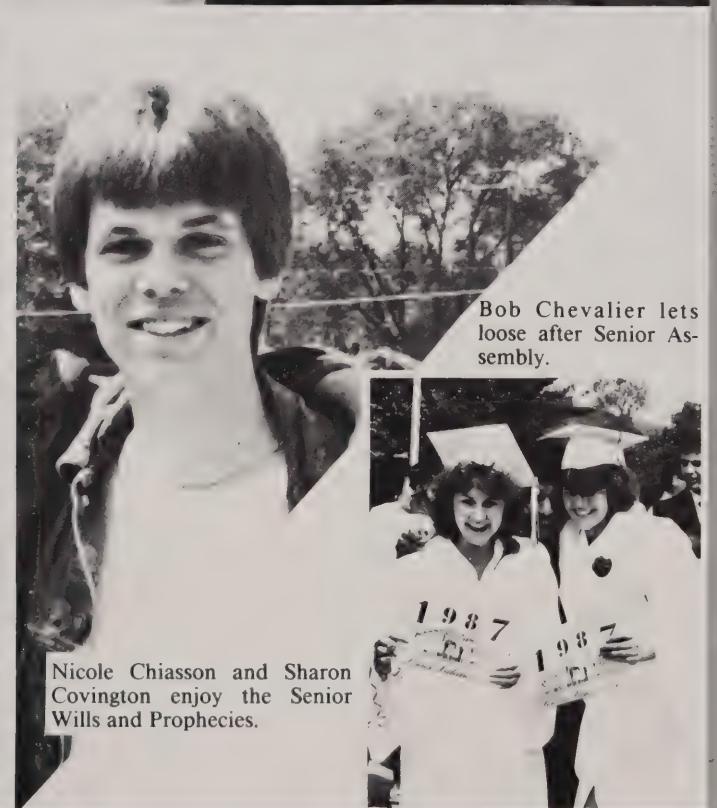

Mud wrestlers of High Meadow.

Keith Leal, alias Mr. Cavallo.

The gang poses for a picture with their balloons.

Grace Goncalves — the chef at the class picnic.

Nicole Chiasson and Sharon Covington enjoy the Senior Wills and Prophecies.

Bob Chevalier lets loose after Senior Assembly.

Christine Parzych
ship.

The Juniors

honor the seniors.

Kim Zych waits to receive her diploma.

Wendy Papko and Kara Evans share a happy moment.

"Not really, but when we got off on the Agawam exit I was sure we were going to Riverside."

"We did not end up at Riverside though, we went to High Meadows. It was the best trip I had ever been on with our class and I think the whole class felt exactly the same way I did."

"I sure did. And even though it rained and rained we made the best of it. I think it added to the fantastic time we had."

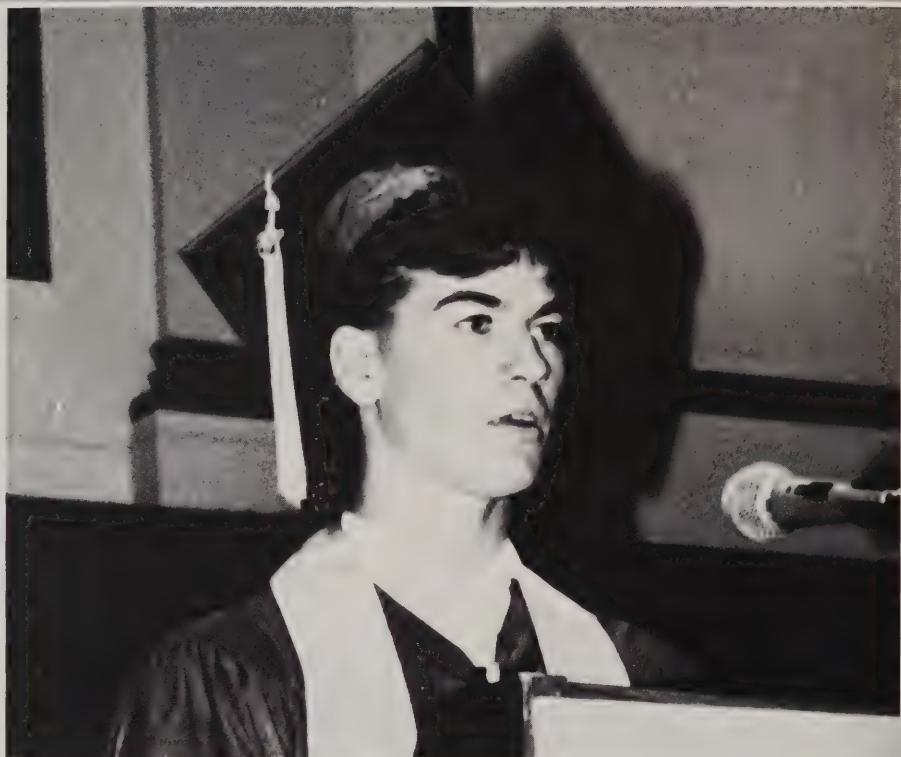

"Yeah it certainly did. The whole class was very sad to leave though because it was the last time we were going to be together in an informal setting."

"But it was late and we had to get a little bit of sleep so we would be wide awake for Senior Assembly the next morning."

"It's hard to find one word that describes how Senior Assembly went."

Tracey Holley awaiting the beginning of the banquet.

Carlos Costa quotes Funky Winkerbean by saying "We're outta here."

Pam Socha happily accepts an athletic award at Class Day.

Dan Gaumond, Scott Robbins, and Scott Duquette celebrate graduation.

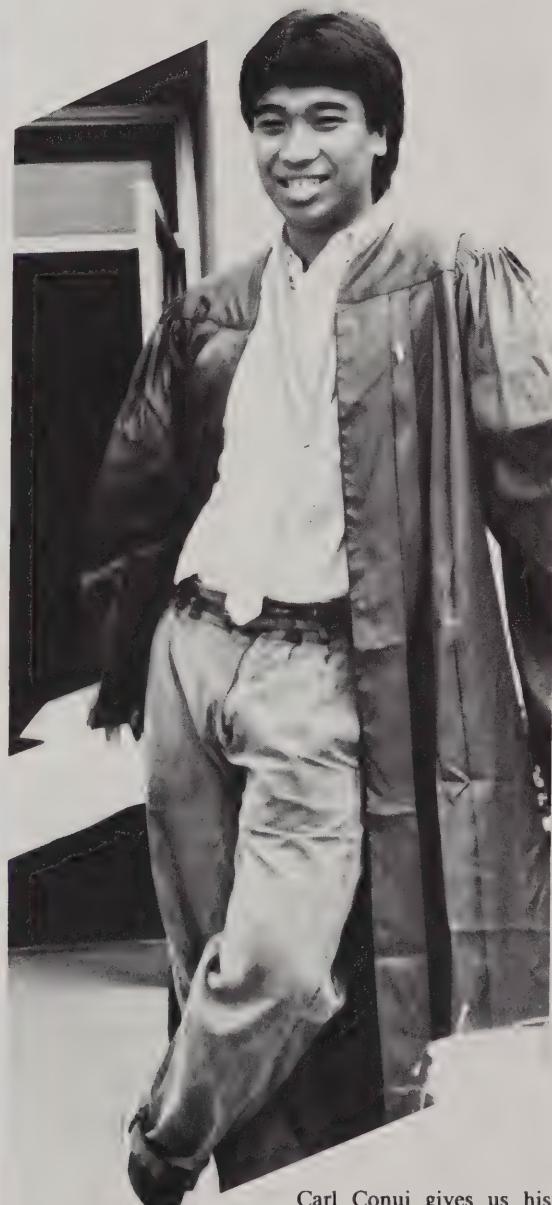

Carol LaCompte and Ron Stamand dance the night away at High Meadow.

The seniors stand for the opening prayer at Class Day.

Carl Conui gives us his GQ pose.

Manny Dutra and Kim Kulig share a moment together.

Lynn Evans and Christine Parzych having a great time at the banquet.

Miss Cepeda "gets down"!

Sue Jerz arrives at the Senior Assembly.

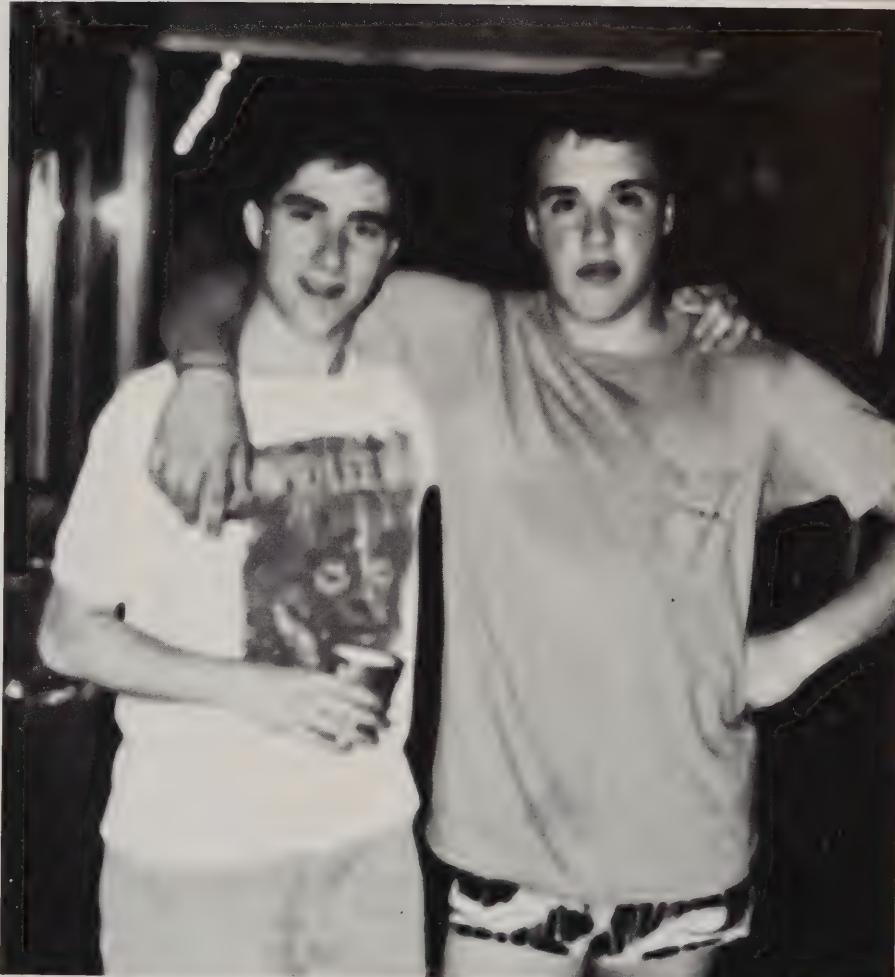

THE STAFF OF
LUDLOW HIGH SCHOOL
CLASS OF 1987
HAVE A NICE EVENING

Who'll ever forget our mystery trip.

"Yeah, I know what you mean! It was fun to see the slides and watch the skit the Juniors put on for us. It was sad to give our letters to our parents and to say goodbye to the underclassmen and our teachers. But it was also great to know that our high school days were over."

"I guess the one word that we could use to describe Senior Assembly would be Special!! But, the best day of all was yet to come ... GRADUATION!!!"

"Just walking down the aisle of Symphony Hall knowing that we'd be walking back up it with our diplomas in our hand was the most incredible feeling!"

Scott Robbins and Chris Debregory relax after a game of ping pong.

David Shields, David Dygon, Michael Haryasz, and John Alessio make sure that they look their best for graduation.

Lance Holman gives the peace pipe to Michelle Robbins.

Michael Saletnik has a good time at the banquet.

Theresa Gaudrea and Patti Molé celebrate.

“You’re not just kidding! Remember everyone screaming and yelling and hugging each other as we walked back upstairs to return our caps and gowns. It was unreal!!!”

“But that was it. Senior Week, Senior Year, and our high school days were all over. Now, that felt kind of strange. For someone who couldn’t wait until high school was over, I was sad.”

“I felt the same way, too. But it was now time for us to move on to bigger and better things. We would all still have the great memories of our four years at good old Ludlow High School though . . . no one could ever take those away from us.”

“You know what, I guess you’re right. I’ll cherish the memories of my high school days forever!!!”

“Me too!”

Thanks

To Alfred Kamuda, our yearbook photographer, and his wife Gloria, for their assistance throughout the year.

To Diane Pelletier, Christine Davis, and Anissa Newman, our student photographers, for always being there with their camera when we needed them.

To Grenier Studios, Mr. Bert Krasner, Loring Studio, and the Class of 1987 Scrapbook, for their contribution of photographs for the 1987 Lion Yearbook.

To our sponsors and patrons, for their continued support of all our endeavors.

To our parents for their love, patience, and understanding throughout the year and always.

To Claire Anne Hopkins, our Taylor Yearbook Representative, for her guidance throughout the year.

To Miss Cepeda, Mrs. Marion, and Mr. Goncalves, our class advisors, for their continued support of us throughout the year.

To our teachers at Ludlow High School, for their patience in allowing students out of their classes to have their pictures taken.

To Mr. Cavallo, Mr. Andreis, and Mrs. Kelley for their support throughout the year.

To Denise Bowen, for designing the cover of the 1987 Lion Yearbook.

To students Lynn Diniz, Kim Dumont, Celia Ferreira, Chris Fijal, Grace Goncalves, Dan LaFortune, Lynda Nadeau, Diane Pelletier, Helena Ribeiro, Christine Sandord, Natalina Soares, and Arice Staeb for securing advertisements for the 1987 Lion Yearbook.

To Nicole Forgie, Mary Gatesman, Sheri Orchulek, Natalina Soares, and Angela Testori, our sales promoters, for their help in selling the 1987 Lion Yearbook.

To all the members of our staff for adding their own special touch to the 1987 Lion Yearbook.

Underclassmen Section: Michael Bouyea, Jennifer Condon, and Grace Goncalves.

Faculty Section: Karen Brunelle.

Senior Section: Dan LaFortune, Helena Ribeiro, and Elizabeth Skoczyz.

And a very special thanks to our yearbook advisors, Mrs. Cavallo and Mrs. Mancuso, for going above and beyond the call of duty — working with us after school, working with us late into the night on Fridays, and even working with us during their summer vacation. We appreciate all that you have done and we thank you for always being there for us.

Scott MacNeil is happy that high school is almost over.

"Wow, I can't believe that we're finally done with this yearbook, can you?"

"No, I can't believe it either. Remember that night that we stayed up until three o'clock in the morning finishing these articles and layouts."

"How could I forget! Well, I guess it's time to reveal ourselves, what do you think?"

"Yeah, I guess so, I'm Christine Parzych!"

"And I'm Lynn Evans. Together we were the editors-in-chief of this year's yearbook. And, I guess that the end of this conversation is the end of our yearbook and the end of our high school years."

"Yeah. There are a lot of memories for everyone in this book! Graduates as you close this yearbook you are closing into it all of your memories of your high school years. Remember them and cherish them."

"Students of Ludlow High, as you close this book, you are closing the memories of one of your high school years and beginning a whole new set of memories this year. Have a blast because high school will fly by!"

"Good luck to everyone in whatever you do and a special good luck wish to the graduates of '87. You will definitely be successful."

Christine Parzych
Lynn Ann Evans
